

Markus Huber: How reliable are functional glueball calculations?

The current status of the determination of glueball masses in pure Yang-Mills theory from functional equations, i.e. Dyson-Schwinger and Bethe-Salpeter equations, will be discussed. In particular the stability of these calculations will be scrutinized, and the question of apparent convergence will be addressed.